BIO

Graduated in Communication Sciences, Marco Panzetti is a freelance documentary photographer and visual artist based in Barcelona (Spain). His photographic work focuses on contemporary issues related to migration, social injustice and collective identity. He successfully carried out projects in Europe, Latin America and Asia, frequently in collaboration or on assignment for nonprofit organizations and magazines. While photography remains key to his documentary work, he also works with different audiovisual formats to create immersive multimedia pieces and art installations. His long-term body of work on the European migrant crisis, 'The Idea of Europe' (2015 – present) received international recognition including the honorable mention at the 2017 Lange-Taylor Prize and the first prize in the video category at the 2017 Migration Media Award.
